

ESSENTIAL CIVIL WAR CURRICULUM

Anderson R. Rouse (University of North Carolina, Greensboro) is a doctoral candidate in United States History. He received a B.A. in Political Science from Bob Jones University in Greenville, South Carolina, and an M.A. in History from Clemson University in Clemson, South Carolina. His dissertation explores the influence of evangelists in the South between 1870 and 2000.