

ESSENTIAL CIVIL WAR CURRICULUM

William B. Kurtz is an assistant editor at Documents Compass, a program of the Virginia Foundation for the Humanities. He received his Ph.D. in American History from the University of Virginia (2012). He has written several articles and given many conference papers on the effect of the Civil War on American Catholics. He is now revising a book on this subject for publication. His current project at Documents Compass is Founders Online, a website that will provide free access to the writings and correspondence of George Washington, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, Benjamin Franklin, and Alexander Hamilton.
