

ESSENTIAL CIVIL WAR CURRICULUM

Christian Andros has served in the Department of the Navy for the past 20+ years both on active duty and as a civilian employee. Since 1992, he has been employed at the Joint Warfare Analysis Center in Dahlgren, VA. In 2010, he moved to the USMC Training and Education Command in Quantico, Virginia. He holds a Bachelors Degree from Penn State University, a Masters Degree from Mary Washington University and is a distinguished graduate of the Marine Corps Command and Staff College's Distance Education Program. He and his wife Judy have been married for 21 years and reside in Spotsylvania County, VA with their two sons: Anthony (20) and Alex (13).