

ESSENTIAL CIVIL WAR CURRICULUM

Bruce Tap is the author of Over Lincoln's Shoulder: The Committee on the Conduct of the War (Lawrence: University Press of Kansas, 1998) and the co-author of Shapers of the Great Debates on the Civil War (Westport, CT: Greenwood Press, 2005). Tap received his Ph.D. in American history from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign where he studied under the direction of James G. Randall Distinguished Professor of History, Robert W. Johannsen. Tap has taught at the Eastern Illinois University and currently is an associate faculty at the University of Phoenix, West Michigan campus. His book The Fort Pillow Massacre: North, South, and the Status of African-Americans in the Civil War Era will appear in August 2013.